2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 5/10/06 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gong (U.S. Patent 6,125,447).

Regarding claims 1, 12, and 17:

Gong discloses a method, computer system and computer readable medium for providing flexible protection by decoupling protection from privilege, comprising: enabling receipt of information describing two or more types of protection (col. 8 line 40 – col. 9, line 37); enabling receipt of information describing a relationship between said two or more types of protection and portions of code that are executed in a same privilege level of the computer system, where said relationship is not required to be linear (Ibid; and col. 9, lines 40-53); and enabling the association of said information describing two or more types of protection and said information describing said relationship with said portions of code (Ibid, and col. 10, lines 57-62). Per claim 12, Gong further discloses a memory unit and processor (col. 4, lines 25-45).

Regarding claims 2, 13, and 18:

Gong further discloses wherein said relationship is user-definable (col. 8, lines 45-63, noting that the ability for a user to set permissions on at least one's home directory and the contents therein was known in the art).

Regarding claims 3, 14, and 19:

Gong further discloses wherein said portions of code are domains and each of said types of protections is defined in part by at least one or more domain attributes (col. 9, lines 40-55).

Regarding claims 4 and 20:

Gong further discloses wherein said one or more domain attributes includes a domain identifier that specifies a unique value for a particular domain (col. 9, lines 5-20).

Regarding claims 5 and 21:

Gong further discloses wherein said one or more domain attributes includes a Private Key that specifies a unique value that a particular domain must use for protecting each user that concurrently uses a particular domain (col. 9, lines 5-37).

Regarding claims 6 and 22:

Gong further discloses wherein said one or more domain attributes includes a SharedCode Key that specifies a value that a particular domain must use to access code associated with another domain (col. 9, lines 25-37).

Regarding claims 7 and 23:

Gong further discloses wherein said one or more domain attributes includes a SharedData Key that specifies a value that a particular domain must use to access data associated with another domain (Ibid).

Regarding claims 8 and 24:

Gong further discloses wherein said one or more domain attributes includes a AllowOthers Key that specifies a value that a particular domain must use to access code associated with another domain in conjunction with said particular domain performing cross-domain switching to said other domain (col. 9, lines 25-37; col. 10, lines 27-40).

Regarding claims 9 and 25:

Gong further discloses wherein said one or more domain attributes includes a AccessOthers Key that specifies a value that a particular domain must use to request access of code associated with a particular domain on behalf of another domain (col. 9, lines 25-37; col. 10, lines 1-17).

Regarding claims 10 and 15:

Gong discloses a method and computer system for providing flexible protection by decoupling protection from privilege, comprising: detecting a request from a first portion of code to access a second portion of code, wherein said first and second portions of code are executed in a same privilege level of said computer system (col. 9, lines 54-67; col. 11, lines 40-65); determining whether said first portion of code is allowed to access said second portion of code based on information describing two or more types of protection and also based on information describing a relationship between said two or more types of protection, wherein said relationship is not required to be linear (col. 8, line 40 – col. 9, line 37); if said relationship specifies that said first portion of code may access said second portion of code, then allowing said first portion of code to access said second portion of code (col. 12, lines 54-67); else not allowing said first portion of code to access said second portion of code (Ibid). Per claim 15, Gong further discloses a memory unit and processor (col. 4, lines 25-45).

Art Unit: 2135

Regarding claims 11 and 16:

Gong further discloses wherein said information describing said two or more types of protection and said information describing said relationships are associated with said portions of code and wherein the method further comprises retrieving said information describing said two or more types of protection and said information describing said relationships (col. 12, lines 10-40).
